Logistics Readiness Center, Bavaria employee is HERO OF THE WEEK

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany – The 21st Theater Sustainment Command Hero of the Week is Mr. Guenter Messer of the 405th Army Field Support Brigade, Logistics Readiness Center, Bavaria for the week May 27-30, 2014.

Mr. Messer distinguished himself as a Driver's Training and Testing Instructor, Bavaria Logistics Readiness Center (LRC), 405th Army Field Support Brigade (AFSB). Mr. Messer personally trained, tested, and licensed more than 200 Soldiers from the 1st Cavalry Division, supporting the Combined Resolve mission. Mr. Messer went above and beyond the call of duty by volunteering to work on Saturday to assure Soldiers were trained and licensed for the mission. Mr. Jim Risek, Director, Logistics Readiness Center, Bavaria states that, “Mr. Messer’s devotion to duty and superior knowledge of European driving rules helped set the bar for the Transportation Division and resulted in exceptional customer satisfaction.”

The Commanding General, 21st Theater Sustainment Command, recognizes each Hero of the Week as part of his Commander’s Update with a Hero of the Week certificate. Additionally, the commander, 405th Army Field Support Brigade, Col. Christopher J. Roscoe will present Mr. Messer the commander’s coin of excellence.
